

ToThe FCC,It has come to my attention that the weather and traffic services offered by XM radio are under threat.

I need and use these services on a daily basis as I am a route driver for a state run organization.

I cannot get the job done on time without these services. Our clients need us there at a certain time and XM has helped tremendously in that area. I need to know the traffic situations at all times during my driving time and the am/fm traffic and weather are spotty at best.

I remember what a Godsend it was when XM began offering these services.

Please do not cater to the people who are trying to remove these services and see that XM traffic and weather remain intact.

Thank you from Ken Scharf, a watchful voter.
